

Build Sustainable Financing and Partnerships for Girls and Women

THE WORLD TODAY

ONLY 2%

of the aid allocated to economic development in 2012 and 2013 prioritized gender equality

LESS THAN $400 MILLION in funding was specifically dedicated to women's civil society organizations in 2012 and 2013

LESS THAN 0.4%

of national budgets in 13 developing countries was allocated to ministries or agencies that addressed girls' and women's development and empowerment in 2013

THE INVESTMENT CASE

By tackling tax avoidance, countries can reclaim $160 billion in annual revenue

$1 → $9

For every dollar spent on primary health goods and services in 74 high-burden countries, society would gain almost $9 in economic and social benefits by 2035

SOLUTIONS

New partnerships across sectors

Robust social protection schemes that support the most vulnerable

Gender-responsive budgets that are in line with development commitments

National and sub-national taxation and redistribution to finance SDG investments for girls and women

The transformative power of girls and women is undeniable. It is time for development partners to invest wisely, invest together, and invest often.

ASKS

Focus on girls and women in political and funding priorities across SDG targets and indicators, and ensure transparent, reliable funding streams.

Increase spending through taxation and develop gender-responsive budgets in line with the SDG commitments made to girls and women.

Support countries to effectively monitor and audit taxes and budgets to finance SDG investments.

Develop new partnerships across sectors to boost efficient financing and implementation of the SDGs, and examine alternative forms of financing to help meet demands.

Account for, develop, and manage sound, equitable budgets in line with funding the SDGs.

Call out corruption and negligence in all sectors.
