

INVITATION TO INTERNATIONAL PARTNERSHIP FOR MICROBICIDES PANEL DISCUSSION ON DAPIVIRINE RING

“Better Together: Partnerships in Innovation for a Vaginal Ring for HIV Prevention”

Panel discussion hosted by International Partnership for Microbicides will cover the critical role partnerships play in driving innovation in women’s sexual and reproductive health.

On the heels of important evidence that a monthly vaginal ring can help prevent HIV in women, panelists will highlight lessons from the dapivirine ring and discuss how partnerships are crucial to moving its development forward, and potentially getting the ring into the hands of women who need it.

As we usher in the sustainable development era, investing in women has never been more important and this event will shine a spotlight on the need for innovation for women's health.

Please RSVP at bit.ly/IPMatWD.

WHO:

- Zeda Rosenberg, CEO, International Partnership for Microbicides
- Sanne Helt, Chief Advisor, Health, Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Denmark
- Laura Kirkegaard, Head of International Development & Partnerships, AIDS-Fondet
- Wim Parys, Vice President, Head of Research & Development, Global Public Health, Janssen Pharmaceutical Companies of Johnson & Johnson
- Yvette Raphael, HIV & human rights activist
- Kenneth Stokholm, Managing Director, QPharma

WHERE: Bella Center, Room B4 7

WHEN: Tuesday, 17 May 2016, 7:00 – 8:00 CEST

MEDIA CONTACT: Anne McKenna, mobile: +1.925.451.1484, email: amckenna@ghstrat.com