

WOMEN DELIVER

PALESTINIAN WOMEN'S HUMANITARIAN ORGANIZATION HUMANITARIAN ADVOCATES PROGRAM

The Palestinian Women's Humanitarian Organization is a grassroots organization working to support women and their families living in refugee camps in Lebanon. Rooted in human rights principles, PWHO believes that women are not victims but are survivors and when provided with the opportunity, they have the power to affect change for themselves and others.

OUR APPROACH

We work to empower girls and women to become more independent and represented in three main ways:

- Health: PWHO works to provide essential health services and information, including psychosocial support, for refugee girls and women.
- Education: Our educational services cover their right to protection, safety and health, fostering positive behavior change and also include remedial and accelerated learning programs for children and youth.
- Leadership: We provide women with the skills and tools to participate politically and be represented within their communities and beyond.

OUR ASKS

- Donors and implementers working with refugees in Lebanon must meaningfully engage Palestinian women's organizations and ensure Palestinian women's representation in local, national and international levels.
- Palestinian refugee girls and women face greater threats to their health and wellbeing. Greater investment is needed to expand access to protection and health services and information in Lebanon.
- Invest in Palestinian refugee women's health and long term futures, including continued and sustainable funding for health services and quality programs that improve a woman's education and/or vocational training.
